Police Eject 2 O.S.U. Men from Picket Line

Special to The Star
COLUMBUS, O., May 2—Police today ordered two Ohio State university students from a picket line of Ohio Bell Telephone Company strikers here and turned one of the youths over to school officials.

Police Capt. Frank Harrison said student Arthur Rappenport of Columbus was taken to the campus after refusing to leave the picket line. The other student left voluntarily, he added.

Rappenport was turned over to O.S.U. Vice President Bland L. Stradley who said he didn't know what action, if any, would be taken.

He said Rappenport formerly was secretary of the Ohio State Youth for Democracy, an organization banned from the campus because it sought affiliation with the American Youth for Democracy, successor to the Young Communist League.

Witnesses said that Rappenport told Harrison he had a right to picket and added: "I know the law."

"I'm the law in this case," Harrison replied.

Wholesale Market Price Drop Reported

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2—The bureau of labor statistics says wholesale market prices on 900 commodities fell an average of three-tenths of one per cent during the week ended last Saturday.

The weekly report was made public a few hours after Gael Sullivan, executive director of the Democratic national committee, declared retailers generally are willing to heed President Truman's call for lower prices but can do little unless "basic manufacturers' cooperate.

Sullivan said in a circular distributed to party leaders that cabinet officers, at the President's direction, are out to "put the heat" on "basic manufacturers like steel, automobiles and the manufacturers of durable goods."

The bureau of labor statistics report said declines were reported in all non-agricultural commodity groups except house furnishings.

STORMS STRIKE DAYTON AREA

Houses Unroofed, Trees Toppled as 55 Mile Winds Hit.

By The Associated Press
DAYTON, O., May 2—Hard rains and high winds buffeted the Dayton-Springfield area last night, unroofing several houses, toppling trees, interrupting power service and damaging 10 airplanes at two private fields in Springfield.

Wind velocity reached 55 miles an hour in Dayton, with gusts 10 miles an hour faster. Damage was largely in the suburban area, with Mad river township east of the city hit hardest.

At Springfield a gust of wind hurled the roof of a cottage 50 feet. Mrs. Mary Wiegel and her eighty - year - old grandmother, Jeannette, the occupants, were unhurt. Roofs of several other houses and a number of Clark county barns were damaged extensively.

The Crabill airport and the Jirelle-Neer Skyways, Inc., private airport near Springfield each reported five planes damaged by the storm. Rouveile Giffin, 29, suffered a head cut and possible internal injuries from a runaway plane at the Crabill field.

A falling tree crushed the moving automobile of A. T. Smith near Springfield, but he escaped injury.

Two 18-year-old Pittsburgh boys, John Settenk and William Karjcovic, were ducked in the Ohio river when their canoe capsized during the windstorm late yesterday. Settenk swam to shore and Lester Bailey, caretaker at a nearby boat harbor, rescued Karjcovic.

In Columbus .44 inches of rain in the 24 hours preceding 4:30 p. m. yesterday was reported by weatherman George Mindling.

Central Ohio, said Mindling, had the fourth wettest April in the Columbus' bureau's history last month. The bureau was opened in 1879. There was 5.30 inches of rainfall against the average of 2.87 and the all-time record of 7.08 in 1893.

In 1945, however, rainfall was 5.52 inches.

Last month also was central Ohio's first snowless April since 1941 and the fourth April without snow in 63 years, Mindling added.

New Constitution Goes Into Effect for Japan Tomorrow

By The Associated Press
TOKYO, May 2—A new constitution becomes the basic law of Japan Saturday but few Japanese have a clear idea of the vast changes it makes in their government.

The constitution, sponsored unofficially by General MacArthur, outlaws war and the military, grants extensive new rights to the people and makes the emperor a figurehead. Its inauguration will be marked by weeklong ceremonies ranging from sports events to lectures on the significance of the new document.

The instruction will be needed.

The people know in a general way that individual rights have been granted them; that the old appointive house of peers has been eliminated, and that certain changes have been made in the status of the emperor.

Little Real Appreciation

But the people have little appreciation of the authority granted their representatives or of the great changes in governmental responsibility and judicial procedure—changes necessary to eliminate the oligarchic control which Japan's outlawed constitution permitted.

The full realization of constitutional government will depend upon how quickly the people grasp these more technical aspects of their new state. In the meantime, they are dependent upon the sincerity and honesty of politicians, most of whom are old-time veterans with more loyalty to party than to constituents.

Few new leaders have arisen and none appears likely to emerge from the current diet, which will select a premier from among its own members after it convenes May 23.

The Socialists demand the premiership on the basis of their plurality in the lower house. The Conservatives are expected to use their combined majority in a stubborn battle to remain in power.

U. S. Prepares Phone Formula

Compromise Government Version Readied as Ordinary Negotiations Fail.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2 — Government conciliators, unable to break a stone-wall deadlock in telephone strike negotiations, announced today they are ready to submit their own "compromise wage formula" for the first time.

They didn't describe the formula, but there were indications that they might try to end the tieup—now in its 26th day—with a combination of:

1. An immediate wage increase, smaller than the $6 a week demanded by the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

2. An arbitration board to determine the extent of any further raises, if any.

Peter J. Manno and William N. Margolis, fast-talking, hard-working conciliation team, spent last night steaming back and forth between the representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its 20,000 long-distance employes.

This dispute is only one part of the nationwide strike of more than 300,000 workers which started April 7, but it is a highly important part, and a settlement would undoubtedly influence the disputes in other A. T. and T.-controlled companies.

Ohio Phone Negotiators Report Some Progress

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., May 2—Ohio Bell Telephone Co. officials and Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers strike leaders meet again today after reporting some progress towards reopening direct negotiations on disputed issues in an eight-hour meeting yesterday.

[redacted]

The parties convene again in the offices of Federal Labor Commissioner T. W. Robertson, who has arranged and sat in on the three discussions which have taken place since the strike began April 7.

Clarence M. Schlund, union negotiating committee chairman, said he expected to meet with his committee and reduce to writing a concrete proposal as a basis for ending the walkout by 15,000 Ohio Bell workers.

He indicated the union was ready to reduce its basic wage demand for a $12 weekly increase and to make concessions on a number of its original 47 issues.

From the company standpoint, E. H. Gustafson, Ohio Bell vice president in charge of personnel, reported no significant change in the positions of either party.

AFL and CIO Leaders Resume Merger Talks

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2 — AFL and CIO leaders returned to their merger talks today solidly agreed that the rival labor organizations are fighting hard to beat off pending union curb legislation.

But it was not clear wether the CIO will accept that as the united front against such labor laws which it has insisted must come before the two unity committees can get down to the hard facts of physical consolidation.

AFL President William Green and CIO Chief Philip Murray joined in saying that their five-hour session yesterday resulted in a thorough discussion of "unity, solidarity and perfect, complete cooperation in dealing with our problems."

TAFT GIVES UP LABOR FEATURE

Abandons Fight To Allow Injunctions Against Jurisdictional Strikes.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today abandoned his fight for a labor bill provision that would let private employers seek injunctions against jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

The chairman of the Republican policy committee outlined to a reporter plans to modify the proposal as the senate got set to vote at 2 p. m., on the first of four amendments which would add more restrictions on unions to its big labor disputes measure.

The amendment up for decision would forbid union coercion of workers in selecting their collective bargaining representatives. G.O.P. leaders expect it will be adopted by a "comfortable" margin.

Yields To Opposition

Taft yielded to opposition in his own party in deciding to forego an attempt to permit private employers file for injunctions. Among others, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) made it clear that he would not support such an amendment.

Taft said he still is undecided whether to press for an amendment which would authorize U. S. district attorneys to seek injunctions. His alternative would be to accept the bill as it stands, vesting the power in the national labor relations board.

The Ohioan said that in any event he intends to hold out for an amendment which would let private employers sue for damages resulting from a jurisdictional strike or secondary boycott.

A secondary boycott is a union effort to hit indirectly at an employer by forcing other employers to quit doing business with him. A jurisdictional strike usually arises from a fight between unions as to which should do given work.

Plays for Votes

Taft's position all along on the private employer injunction provision has been that if it would cost the bill votes, he would agree to scrap it.

But Taft did not introduce the injunction amendment himself. It is sponsored by Senators Ball (R-Minn), Byrd (D-Va), Donnell (R-Mo) and George (D-Va).

To a reporter's question as to whether he will go along with Taft and drop the injunction fight, Ball replied:

"I don't know yet. We'll wait and see."

Senators Rally Behind Full Foreign Relief Bill

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2—Some senate Republicans rallied today behind the administration's full request for a $350,000,000 foreign relief fund.

But Democratic Senator McClellan (Ark) called for a reduction to $280,000,000, or only $50,000,000 more than the house voted earlier this week.

McClellan also served notice that the bipartisan foreign policy leadership will face a battle unless the bill is amended additionally to ban relief for any Communist-dominated country.

ANTI-PORTAL BILL SENT TO TRUMAN

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2—A bill to knock out claims for billions of dollars in portal pay headed for an uncertain fate in the White House today.

Republicans sounded a contention that a veto would scuttle the President's own campaign for lower prices.

Administration supporters said Mr. Truman should blackball the measure on the ground that it would weaken the wage-hour act.

The bill would outlaw the bulk of pending court claims totaling $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 for non-productive time workers spent under their employers control—such as walking to their work stations.

As the senate and house completed action yesterday on a compromise version, Chairmen Wiley (R-Wis) and Michener (R-Mich) of the senate and house judiciary committees told the President a veto would unsettle business.

"Overnight thousands of business and industrial concerns can be plunged into such economic uncertainty as to considerably retard or postpone indefinitely the price relief which now is within our grasp," they said in a joint statement.

Truman Signs Measure Releasing "52-20" Funds

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May —President Truman signed an appropriations bill last night which carried $1,800,000,000 for the veterans administration, permitting resumption of monthly unemployment and educational payments to 2,780,000 war veterans.

The checks were delayed one day while the bill cleared congress and received the President's signature.

ASKS STRENGTH FOR AMERICAS

Tells N.Y. Crowd Continuance of Good Neighbor Policy Helps UN.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 2—President Miguel Aleman of Mexico declared today that strengthening of Western Hemispheric solidarity is "the first step we must take in the furtherance of the ends" pursued by the United Nations.

Speaking from City hall where Mayor William O'Dwyer conferred honorary citizenship of New York City upon him following a parade through the rain-swept downtown Manhattan streets, President Aleman asserted:

"Mexico's contributions to the work of the United Nations has been heartfelt and generous. But Mexico believes that the first step we must take in the furtherance of the ends pursued by that organization is to uphold hemispheric solidarity strengthening the ties that bind the American republics together."

United by Institutions

Stressing Mexico's kinship with the United States, he said, "let us remember that our countries are united by the similarity of their institutions and their common love of freedom rather than by their geographical proximity and parallel histories."

President Aleman referred to the selection of New York City as the seat of the United Nations and said:

"The stricken, distressed peoples of the world are placing their faith in this organization which conducts here the widest experiment yet attempted by man to abolish war and to maintain peace on a basis of understanding and amity.

"The colossal statue holding aloft its torch in New York bay is becoming anew the symbol of liberty."

Bonds of solidarity "are doubly important in the relations between countries, such as Mexico and the United States, that have a common border," President Aleman continued. "Both our governments realize this importance; both our peoples understand it."

Expresses Thanks for Welcome

He said that in "the hearty and gracious welcome" extended him by the people of New York he found "an auspicious omen for the advancement of the good neighbor policy and for an ever-growing exchange of goods and services between our nations—commercial, cultural and touristic."

Mayor O'Dwyer, in conferring honorary citizenship of the city upon President Aleman, said he "symbolizes the bond of friendship that exists between the republics of Mexico and the United States."

Pointing out that Mexican troops fought in World War II, O'Dwyer said, "we must never allow comradeship of the battlefield to become a victim of peacetime indifference or misunderstanding."

The mayor and Grover A. Whalen, head of the city's reception committee, escorted President Aleman and his party from their special railroad car to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel early today and greeted him officially again at City hall.

Bands and military units were on hand, bunting and flags were up among skyscraper-shaded streets, and in the offices above Manhattanites showered the visiting chief of state with ticker tape in the manner that has become a New York institution.

Mayor O'Dwyer and Whalen picked up President Aleman and his party at the station at 7:55 a. m. President Truman's personal automobile was sent here from the capital to carry the official party.

An army guard and a police color guard stood by at the station.

Behind a motorcycle escort, the party moved through the mid-Manhattan section, the city's shopping center, and up Park avenue to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. There, they rested until 11:30 a. m., when the major activities began.

BRITAIN TO LET JEWS SPEAK

Willing To Allow Representatives at UN Session if Move Legal.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 2—Britain declared today that Jews should be given a voice in the United Nations debate on Palestine if any legal means could be found to provide a hearing for them.

The first official British views on this delicate problem were expressed by Sir Alexander Cadogan to newsmen just before the general assembly's 14-nation steering committee began discussion of Jewish demands for representation at this extraordinary session.

Cadogan said that in view of the fact that Arab states had entered into a full debate of the Palestine question the Jews should be heard if it was "constitutionally feasible." He declined to say whether he believed this was possible or, if so, how it could be done.

Despite Cadogan's endorsement of the general idea of hearing the Jews, there remained a possibility that Britain and the United States might split over the type of representation to be given.

United States spokesmen maintained their usual caution on this delicate matter and would not go beyond saying that Warren R. Austin would plump for some kind of representation. It was reported on good authority, however, that Austin would suggest that the Jews be given a voteless seat on the 55-nation political committee.

This setup would be virtually equal to full assembly participation, as the major issues are due to be threshed out in that powerful body.

The British were known to be ready to reject any such plan, and if Austin presses the two powers could be expected to break for the first time in the extraordinary session.

Another American choice was said to be for a special committee

FBI EXPERT CALLED IN MAY WAR TRIAL

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May — The government recalled an FBI expert today for further testimony on charges that munitions-makers Henry and Murray Garsson tried to "cover up" wartime money payments to Andrew J. May, former house military committee chairman.

Frank M. Miller, FBI identification expert, already has testified that typewritten invoices of the Cumberland Lumber Company, in which May was interested, bear the same characteristics as samples from a 12-year-old typewriter in the Garsson Illinois offices.

William A. Paisley, the prosecutor, said he expects to prove the Cumberland invoices were prepared on a Garsson firm machine.

He contends the 72-year-old May received more than $50,000 from the Garsson firms to finance Cumberland but failed to deliver any lumber.

He said documents supposedly showing Garsson purchases from Cumberland actually were faked to represent a legitimate business transaction after a government investigation began.

May, the Garsson brothers and Joseph F. Freeman, their Washington agent, are charged with conspiring to buy May's influence to get government favors.

10,000 Pennsylvanians Idled by Walkouts

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, May 2—Steel plants, transportation, construction and cement mills were hit today by strikes that idled an estimated 10,000 workers throughout Pennsylvania.

Hardest hit by the work stoppage was the state's cement belt where approximately 6,000 workers in 20 plants walked out after negotiations for a 15-cent hourly increase and other contract improvements bogged down. Company officials did not comment.

Legislature Exempts Self from ONG Duty

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O, May 2—Members of the Ohio legislature exempt themselves from duty in the National Guard in an enactment now awaiting Gov. Thomas J Herbert's signature.

The exemption, putting the legislators in the same category with officials of the state and members of the judiciary, was inserted in an amendment to a bill making technical changes in the militia law.

The house completed action on the measure yesterday with a unanimous vote of approval. Previously the senate had unanimously passed the bill, introduced by Senator Albert L. Daniels (R-Highland).

Service in the National Guard at present is voluntary, but the legislature can declare an emergency and permit the state government to draft men into the guard.

The Daniels bill also permits 17-year-old boys to enlist with the consent of their parents. The age limit has been 18.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of (hemorrhoids) as a mild disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling and general nervous irritability.
Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Library at LaRue To Hold Open House

LARUE—The Henkle Memorial Library here will hold open house and a silver tea of the afternoon and evening of May 10, Mrs. R. D. Henkle, chairman of the library board of directors announced Tuesday. The event is being held in observance of the recently completed new addition and improvements to the library, which marked its tenth anniversary last November.

The new addition of the library, located on the first floor of the town hall, was provided when the mayor's office and council rooms were moved upstairs last fall and these two rooms were converted into library space, adding an approximate area of 22 by 15 feet.

From the additional space a new room was constructed with an area of 10 by 12 feet and the remaining space added to the original library room. In the entire new addition approximately 400 feet of new shelving has been added.

Other improvements include the sanding of the floor and the laying of new linoleum in the only remaining section of the library with a wooden floor.

One for Solomon

IN TAKING up the Palestine problem, the United Nations couldn't have found a knottier puzzle had it searched the whole world over. A crossroads of civilization long before Jesus, David or Herod, Palestine has been a disputed land since the dawn of time.

Key to the modern dispute over Palestine centers about the Balfour Declaration, the 67 words of which mean one thing to the British, another to the Jews and still another to the Arabs.

The Declaration reads: "His Majesty's Government view with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people and will use their best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of that object—it being understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by the Jews in any other country."

If from the welter of conflicting interests—racial, religious, geographic, social and political—the United Nations can devise a workable plan for Palestine, it will have passed the most difficult test possible. It will have proved itself indispensable in the peaceful settlement of the world's disputes.

Quiet, Please!

THIS IS National Noise Abatement week. Whether things are quieter, is doubtful. Certainly the news hasn't been imparted to the beagle hound down the street which is giving tongue as if it were the first day of the hunting season. Manhole covers clank dismally under passing wheels. Radio programs conducted by extrovert pranksters have the same hysterical audiences. The decibel output of auto horns hasn't decreased a bit.

What can YOU do to help National Noise Abatement week? Well, you can lift your feet when you walk. Make sure you are shod with rubber heels. Stop rattling that change in your pocket. Take that bubble gum away from your children. Speak in low tones. Don't slam doors. Cancel whatever plans you had for setting off firecrackers in rain-barrels.

Those suggestions probably wouldn't make things one whit quieter, but they would give you a sense of participation, a feeling you were part of the big picture.

Toward a November Vote

THE STATE senate's unanimous approval of the veterans' bonus referendum brings the proposal a step nearer the November ballot. The senate estimates the cost at $300,000,000 and would finance it by a real estate tax. The house has its own ideas on the cost and how it should be met.

It now appears certain a bonus referendum will be on the ballot this fall. As Senator Kyle F. Brooks of Hamilton said, "Regardless of our personal feelings, both parties pledged themselves to submit the matter to the voters." Doubtless the legislators are glad to be relieved of the responsibility of deciding this matter, although the details have been left up to them.

The house military affairs committee is reported to favor no new tax on real estate, but would look to levies on cigarets and alcoholic beverages, plus allocations from the general fund. Perhaps the legislators might consider the combination of income and excise taxes New York is submitting to its voters for a bonus of approximately the same size as that proposed in Ohio. It avoids the real estate tax and raids on the general fund, but even it is not the painless tax-levying procedure for which legislators have been searching since the days of the Pharoahs.

A Movie Fan Would Know

THERE was a general ruffling of dictionaries after Sir Carl Berendson of New Zealand told the United Nations trusteeship council that he would not "burke" a discussion on western Samoa. Orthologers, quiescent in recent months, recalled nothing like it since the late President Roosevelt, throwing a high hard one at a press conference, used "discomboomerate."

"To burke" is a perfectly good word, although it hasn't been used much since d'Israeli's time. William Burke of Edinburgh, whose grim career was memorialized by Boris Karloff in a macabre film titled "The Body Snatchers," was a specialist in the business of killing by strangulation or smothering and selling his victims' bodies to medical students. Thus, "to burke" means to suppress or suffocate without a trace of violence.

The etymology of "burke," like that of "lynch" and "boycott," traces back to a family name. It's a handy word to have around these days when there is a lot of burking in the dark hallways of the world.

Billy the Kid, New Mexico's most notorious desperado, was, at one time, employed by John S. Chisum, who was known as the cattle king of the West. The Kid was one of Chisum's so-called "Pecos Warriors," a gang composed of men who boasted that they could take more punishment than an Indian.

Strange Animal and Steel Report Arrive Same Day.

WASHINGTON, May 2—The duck-bill platypus, which swims backward, arrived at the Bronx zoo the same day the administration economists received the U. S. Steel quarterly earnings report. At once the economists started studying how steel, the lead-duck in national economics, could similarly make progress.

The sum total of economists here (Trumanite, Republican, business, unions), seemed to think the counterpart mechanical duck they have made out of the national economy looked very good. What they mean is they think it will float at least as long as manufacturing and commerce continues to do good business. Most of them appeared to believe it possible to get by without another round of price increases—a general further upping that is.

Steel had a larger first quarter profit than most of the CIO industrial group. If any could absorb the new round of wage increases, that industry might make it, they said, although steel officials said they would not make up their minds about prices until they saw how the wage increase works out, adding there will certainly be no reduction in price of steel now. The profit situations in motors is tighter and the companies are plainly holding back without committing themselves. General Electric has given another 7 per cent wage increase, the

These considerations boiled down to a conclusion that good business for the next year or two might save the consumer from another price inflationary step upward. The mechanical ducks might make the grade forward, backward or sideways, as long as production was running high (steel over 100 per cent now.)

But if the duck ever gets in rapids like the British where production in coal has socialistically dropped from 225 to 185, they say even a platypus could not survive.

Where our rub will come hardest against our fellners, they continue, is with the marginal producers. The squeeze economy we are in has them in a constantly closing vise, reducing the margin of profit point by point until we could possibly drop down into the nether realm of cheaper goods production, using inferior materials with the slipshod cheap labor. As the margin of profit is whittled down, they mean we might get an increase tendency toward production of inferior goods.

All this is said with a more or less happy smile. The economists talk like a banker saying no. Their pleasantness is really genuine, however, because they think the 2 year duration of current contracts, plus imminence of the labor union reform legislation will mean 24 months good business. But they, too, indicate they are pleased to sit back and see how it all works out, which seems to be the current economic slogan, universally used by all factions.

Wait and See

Even the stock market appears determined to see how it all works out. Stocks have been drifting around within a 3 point radius. The expert traders say they want to see how the market itself works out when the 3 point limit is broken one of these days.

Take steel. Its first quarter earnings (before the wage increase was granted) were high for 18 years. The financial writers had to go back to 1929 to find so many profit numbers with a dollar sign in front. However, they did not consider the depreciation of purchasing power of the dollar in 18 years. If they had they might have gone back to the U. S. Steel numbers for 1932. But the price of steel stock the day of this grand statement, when the Australian ambassador was pictured holding the platypus in the Bronx, was 68, only 2 points above the low for the quarter, and 11 points beneath the high. While steel earnings were advertised as the highest since 1929, no trader showed much enthusiasm for steel profits prospects.

Consequently your objective correspondent has decided to join the parade. Although once called the lone wolf of the Potomac, I have now enlisted in the pack. I, too, want to see how it all works out.

The Whole World To Be in Ferment?

Scientists of the department of agriculture have discovered a means of making alcohol out of milk.

What is needed, of course, what with the surplus of whisky and the high cost of dairy products, is a way to reverse the process.

Still, with signs of an economic recession in the offing, the discovery offers a measure of security to the dairy industry. Even in hard times, people will buy whisky.

Whisky is now being made out of cereals, milk and sugar. But it is not recommended as a substitute for breakfast foods.

It's just a question of time, one supposes, until all the men of distinction will be drinking 90 proof milk spirits from discontented cows.

Milk chemistry has made great strides in recent years. Modern science has devised processes of making just about anything conceivable out of milk except, of course, 60-cent-a-pound butter, effect of which had not been studied for potentialities by the consulted economic seers.

THE JAR IS EMPTY

East Is East, West Is West

By STEWART ALSOP

LONDON, May 2—Reliable reports have become available here of the remarkable conversation which took place during the recent Moscow conference between Soviet Premier Josef Stalin, and British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin; and also of the ensuing negotiations on broadening the scope of the Anglo-Soviet treaty. Both the conversation and the subsequent negotiations are deeply significant in a number of ways, not least in that they demonstrate vividly the enormous difficulties which stand in the way of a real meeting of minds between the Soviet Union and the West.

The conversation took place during the desperate British coal crisis. Stalin started the talk on a friendly tone by suggesting to Bevin that the British take what coal was needed out of the Ruhr. He went on to remark that if the Germans proved recalcitrant they should be forced to mend the machinery and get the coal out. This surprising suggestion, which implied that the British would be quite justified in treating their zone of Germany like a conquered province, with the Germans as slave labor to feed the British economy at the expense of coal-hungry Europe, led in turn to a discussion of the German problem as a whole.

Stalin's Limited Information

What was chiefly notable in the exchange of views which followed was the exceedingly limited briefing which the Soviet chief of state had apparently received from his aides. Most surprising was that Stalin revealed no understanding whatsoever of the meaning of the four-power treaty to keep Germany disarmed, first proposed by former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, and still the cornerstone of the whole American and British position on a German settlement. When Bevin raised the question, it was necessary for Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, also present at the talk, to explain to his chief what treaty Bevin referred to.

More surprises were in store. The conference then in session in Moscow was chiefly concerned with the problem of the administration of Germany, and the American, British, and French delegations had put forward their proposals at some length. Nevertheless, Stalin seemed wholly unaware of any proposals for the government of Germany except his own government's. He was apparently equally unaware of the larger implications of the Soviet demands for reparations from current production, especially to the enormous cost of the Soviet program.

In what must have been an atmosphere of considerable bafflement, the talk turned to questions affecting the direct relations between Great Britain and the Soviet Union. Trade possibilities were discussed, and Stalin volunteered the information that the Soviet Union would soon have a surplus of wheat and timber to trade with the British. Both commodities are in desperately short supply here, and Stalin's brief statement was thus a carrot of considerable importance to dangle before the eyes of the British donkey. Bevin himself introduced the matter of the Anglo-Soviet Treaty.

Criticized British

Some time before, the Soviet press had bitterly attacked the British for abusing the treaty by working too closely with the United States, quoting out of context a phrase in a speech by Bevin to prove this point. In a peculiarly puzzling Soviet diplomatic maneuver, Stalin had then disclaimed the press attaches. Bevin thus bluntly asked Stalin what in fact was wanted, and Stalin replied briefly that he wanted "improvements." Sir Maurice Peterson and Sir Oliver Harvey of the British foreign office were then authorized to begin negotiations on the treaty with Vyshinsky, Russia's number two diplomat.

The negotiations which followed were almost as remarkable as the Stalin-Bevin conversaiton. In the first talk, Peterson emphasized the importance of keeping the treaty within the framework of the United Nations. Vyshinsky replied that the Soviet Union wanted the treaty to be enduring, seeming to imply doubt of the United Nations durability. Drafts were then exchanged. The Soviet draft at first obliged the British to fight not only if Germany again attacked the Soviet Union, but if "any power connected with" Germany did so, a phrase capable of infinite stretching. More significant was the Sixth Clause, which specifically forbade any

NEW YORK—Despite increasing use of labor-saving devices, mothers will do as much work in the future home as they did before, it is suggested by experts of the Twentieth Century Fund who have made a survey of what conditions may be like in the next 13 years.

The experts say that by 1960 electricity in homes should be almost universal, with big increases in the use of mechanical workers like washing machines and vacuum cleaners. But they cite studies to show that housewives with labor-saving equipment spend almost as much time at work as those without.

Reasons cited for this are that when good devices come into the house other members of the family cut down on the amount of help they give. Mothers also do other things more thoroughly than they used to, find some new tasks, or just reduce their speed.

Some Predicted Changes

Assuming that high employment and income continue, the Fund authorities foresee numerous changes in the country's housing and household operations. They say:

There will be an estimated demand for 16,052,000 new homes between 1946 and 1960. This number will provide for all new and involuntarily doubled-up families; for replacement of houses destroyed through fire, flood, etc.; and the replacement of 65 per cent of all the substandard dwellings that should be torn down. Even so, there still would be 5,573,000 "substandard" dwellings in 1960.

An expected boom in rural electrification will give many farm families new kitchen, laundry and cleaning equipment they never had before.

The decline in the size of the family is expected to continue. That means there may be a greater demand for smaller apartments or houses. Since there is a "fixed demand" for a kitchen, and bathroom whether the family is small or large, this is good news for makers of plumbing equipment.

Larger Refrigerators

Besides increased use of existing work-saving devices there will be a trend toward the development of larger and more efficient models of refrigerators that will provide more freezer and storage space. "Freezer rooms" will probably be installed in the homes of many well-to-do farm families, particularly in the west where farm families live far from town.

Units run by electricity that will air-cool individual rooms are expected to get into substantial production in the next decade.

A large percentage of women who went into factories during the war will remain at work. This means there will be increased demands for such things as commercial laundry service, restaurant meals and nursery school care.

The survey indicates that the trend of the "disappearing housemaid," under way since 1909 and accentuated by the war, may be reversed. But it may take higher wage rates and better working conditions for household help to do it.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Merger of Mergers

If you think the Moscow conference was a dud, keep your eyes on the one now under way. It's between Phillip Murray and William Green. They are talking of making peace.

• • •

All that is required is the necessary bucket of ether.

• • •

Bill has again urged a merger of the AFL and the CIO. Can you blend Iwo Jima with the Battle of the Bulge? Is it possible to make a wedding cake out of two immovable bodies? Can the lion lie down with the lion tamer, or vice versa?

• • •

Phillip Murray has the same deep love for Bill Green that Sinatra has for a tabloid critic. Green's admiration of Murray is runnerup to Leo Durocher's affection for Happy Chandler.

• • •

And listening to a CIO group discussing the AFL is like listening to the Democratic party run over the virtues of Senator Taft.

• • •

There is no doubt that labor would benefit by working under one tent. But it would require an asbestos tent.

• • •

The old saying is that a house divided against itself cannot stand. But the CIO is only happy when the ceiling is shaking.

• • •

Phil and Bill are in a huddle now. You don't need to watch the papers. When those boys begin talking you will be able to hear them distinctly above all other sounds.

• • •

And if it goes on the air you will think it is a merger of a Clem McCarthy racing description and the Bikini Atoll broadcasts.

• • •

Bill Green is a leader who holds to traditions. Phil Murray thinks traditions are gone with the bustle, the isinglass windshield and the pug dog. Green believes in looking before he leaps. Murray will swap one look for a dozen good leaps any day.

• • •

Green inclines toward the day when labor had dignity and an aversion to rocking the boat. Murray thinks all boats should not only have rockers but carry spares.

• • •

The AFL goes back to the era when even in the most justified strike the workers were a little sad and never overjoyed. The CIO has introduced the ear-to-ear smile to the walkout. Nowhere on earth can you see as many smiling faces as you see in the picket lines.

• • •

The only time the CIO doesn't grin is when you speak of a merger with the AFL. However, we can't wait for the fun when the two organizations sit down to smoke the pipe of peace. Our fear is that it will have all the authenticity of a scene showing the House of David merging with the Barbers Union, the Shuberts blending with the Theater Guild and Gargantua going to the altar with Little Eva.

Been Vaccinated?

"Iceland offers free vaccination to all patrons by recognized physicians in attendance. Now you can enjoy a Broadway visit without fear of smallpox. Now you get this service free, plus Milton Britton and his revue. Plus world-famous smorgasbord."—Advertisement.

It sounds confusing, and we are a little afraid we might be given smorgasbord by a physician and vaccinated by the comedian. Still, wonders will never cease, and we heard today of a doctor who is offering a dinner and a floor show with every vaccination.

General Marshall went immediately to Pinehurst after his return to Washington. Pinehurst is famous as a golfing resort. Inasmuch as the general had just spent 44 days in the rough, behind the bunkers and in deep traps of the Kremlin links, this seems to us a curious idea of a respite.

We hear that any number of golfers playing Pinehurst during the general's visit added "Big" to the usual cry of "Fore!"

A Moving Sight

By TRUMAN TWILL

There is no likelihood that the Twill family will move this year. That's a shame. A family needs to move frequently. Stones that don't roll gather moss.

When a family moves, it brings things to light that have been lost since Aunt Minnie's visit the year of the rainy summer. It also loses things which no one has wanted since Christmas, the year of the big snow.

By packing and unpacking its pathetic junk a family takes inventory and becomes apprehensive lest it be killed by a landslide of useless litter, like the Collyer brothers. The exercise machine no one ever used is finally thrown away, and something is done about the unspeakable picture which turned up in the wedding loot.

The rugs get a real cleaning. The trash that has accumulated on the closet shelves comes under stern scrutiny and 67 per cent of it goes where it should have gone five years ago—a bonfire. When the men lift the davenport and the springs fall out like the insides of a picador's horse the sight is too horrible to bear and the davenport is abandoned.

Curtains and drapes whose tenure has been stretched out indefinitely on the theory of letting well enough alone are given a decent burial. Chairs which have come unglued must be stuck back together before the pieces get lost.

Pianos get tuned. Old shoes get thrown away. Collections of rags, scraps of textiles, odds and ends of metal, boxes of kindling and a ton and a half of mismated overshoes, battered curtain fixtures, leaky pillows, abandoned tricycles, hopeless hoses and unused vests and outgrown trousers are turned over to the first bidder.

A garageful of junk is left behind, also a truckful of old bottles and mason jars. Also abandoned are a quarter of a mile of clothesline in five-foot lengths, a handful of croquet mallets with no croquet set and half a dozen pieces of luggage that haven't been used since the world fair at St. Louis.

When it's all over, the victims feel better for having been parted from a lot of useless possessions. Their outlook on life is brighter. They have been obliged to wash the windows. They have acquired a new set of neighbors to persecute and be persecuted by. Their dog has a new set of playmates. So have their children.

They compare the new house with the old one and tell each other that everything is for the better. Possessions which had ceased to be cherished are evaluated afresh. Perhaps the new house will be cheaper to heat. Who knows—grass might grow in the yard. The house might be less dirty, cooler in the summertime, easier to keep clean, with fewer squeaky places in the floor, fewer leaky places in the roof, fewer drafts, less mice and less trouble with the plumbing.

By the time disillusionment sets in—a few years later—it's time to move again.

More than 87 per cent of U. S. dairy cows are kept in herds of 10 or less.

Ernie Pyle Thought Self Misfortune's Darling

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 2—The sad little man with the international name came back after twenty-one years.

He was still listed in Indiana university student records as "Pyle, Ernest Taylor," but millions knew him as "Ernie Pyle."

It was a beautiful Indiana summer day in November, 1944 five months and several thousand miles away from the isolated Pacific island where Ernie met death, but it was the day when his life really reached full circle.

Hal Boyle

When he stood on the summit, and what came after was only repetition and anti-climax.

Ernie had known with that queer fatalistic insight which was part of his unique genius that he would never live through the war. He lacked the consolation of the martyr who approaches death consoled by the faith that his cause would ultimately triumph. Ernie hated war with the uttermost intensity of his sensitive soul. He hoped that a permanent peace would follow, but he felt no certainty of it. He knew only the surety that he himself would die.

Deeply Troubled Man

He was a deeply troubled and unhappy man. The tens of thousands of dollars rolling in to him in book royalties meant nothing to him. Money never did. In his personal life he was still misfortune's darling.

It was then that his alma mater invited Ernie to come back to the intellectual home of his youth and receive the honorary degree of doctor of humane letters—the first degree of this kind granted by the university in 125 years.

For twenty-one years Ernie had avoided coming back to this campus which set the pattern of his life — a career of mixed achievement and frustration.

Ernie was a student leader whose lifelong peculiar combination of bold self-confidence and self-doubting shyness led some prophet of the class of 1923 to describe him in the class annual: as one who:

"Still wears the same old hat, is still the same good fellow.

Left Over Love Affair

Yet one of the reasons Ernie left the university six months before he would have completed his degree was a broken romance with a red-haired co-ed.

Ernie wrote fondly in after years of Indiana university, but could never bring himself to return. He wanted to keep his memories intact. He had a complex about seeing the campus changed.

"I have an idea I actually will come back some time—but it won't be this trip," he wrote his classmate, John Sempel, head of the department of journalism, in 1940.

When he finally did come back—feeling in his heart he would soon be dead—another old college mate, President Herman B. Wells, was there to hand him the university's honors.

Ernie — who previously had turned down opportunities to make a fortune over the radio—wouldn't make a speech. Just before they handed him his degree he leaned over to President Wells and asked:

"Herman, do I take my hat off or keep it on when I get the degree."

The red-haired sweetheart of his youth—now married—was there, and Ernie gave her a big boyish kiss and had a private half-hour talk with her over old times.

Ernie left then. Later he wrote back to George Heighway, alumni secretary that it had been one of the happy days of his life. And I think it was. It completed something for Ernie he needed before he went west for the great adventure he can no longer write for us who wait.

LUNCHEON was followed by an afternoon of bridge at the first of the weekly ladies' day parties arranged for this season yesterday at the Marion Country club. Covers were placed for more than 40 at luncheon. In charge were Mrs. Otis Porter, Mrs. Donald Cuthbert, Mrs. Robert Kraner, Mrs. Harry Snouffer and Mrs. James Barker.

THE Woman's Council and faculty advisor of the Y-Teens of the Y.M.C.A. met for dinner and a business session Wednesday evening at Greenwood Inn. Mrs. J. E. Scanning, president of the Woman's Council, presided for the meeting, which was attended by 17 council members and 11 faculty advisors. The Y-Teens, formerly the Girl Reserves, is made up of girls from Harding High, Central, Vernon and Edison Junior High schools. The organization is a participating agency in the Marion Community Foundation.

Officers, headed by Mrs. Charles H. Isaly as president, were elected for the 1947-48 season. Mrs. E. G. Siefert was elected vice president, Mrs. J. H. Harmon, secretary and Mrs. Edson L. Bunn, treasurer. Faculty advisors gave annual reports of Y-Teen activities in the schools and told of the civic activities of the organization during the past year. Mrs. Siefert, chairman of the allocation committee, announced distribution of funds to each club for summer camp.

Mrs. Richard Plantz and Mrs. Edgar Barnhart were named to serve on the Woman's Council.

Tentative plans were made for a potluck dinner and entertainment to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Knaebel in May when the Starlight club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Fern Wilson on the Delaware road. The dinner will be in honor of Miss Florence Leonhardt, a charter member of the club, who will be visiting here from California.

The evening was spent in playing bridge with high honors and the floating award going to Mrs. Tom Greenland, second to Mrs. Flora Hoffman and low to Mrs. George Reinwald. A special award was won by Mrs. Wallace Brady.

Mrs. Pearl Green was complimented with a personal shower when Mrs. Gale McDougle entertained members and friends of the Happy Hours club Tuesday evening at her home at 1391½ North Seiffert avenue. Contest prizes were won by Mrs. David Roberts, Mrs. Dale Kimbel, Miss Dorothy Lee and Mrs. Buchanan, and the guessing box went to Miss Ruth Kaufman. Others present were Mrs. J. C. McDougle, Mrs. Dan Townsend, Mrs. Harry I. Green and little Miss Karen Sue Kimbel.

Herbert said he was alarmed at statistics showing that accidents, deaths and injuries outside municipalities, had soared in 1946 far above the 1945 figures.

RADIO INDUSTRY ASKS DEFINITION OF 'GOOD'

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 2 — The radio broadcasting industry, always a bit fearful of extended government control, would like to know what "standard ingredients go to make up a program "in the public interest, convenience and necessity."

The federal communications commission requires such broadcasts as a condition of granting station licenses — but no one yet has come up with an exact definition.

Four experts, three executives and a FCC commissioner, will give the problem a verbal going-over tonight in the opening general session of Ohio State university's 17th Institute for Education by Radio.

Engaged as panel members in a discussion of "What should be the criteria for broadcasting in the public interest, convenience and necessity?" are:

Clifford J. Durr, FCC commissioner; Edgar R. Murrow, vice president and director of public affairs, Columbia Broadcasting System; Robert K. Richards, director of public relations, National Association of Broadcasters, and Charles Siverton, program director, station WHAM, Rochester, N. Y.

Other controversial matters are scheduled for discussion during the four-day institute, which is the largest radio trade gathering of them all. That includes the relationship of radio and labor broadcasting, the red-hot subject of children's programs, the place of radio in the post-war "one world" and whether radio should have an editorial policy.

After a pre-conference reception, the institute will get under way tonight at 7:45 p. m. with a broadcast of "Meet the Press," the radio show by the Mutual Broadcasting System which has resulted in some highly newsworthy interviews.

STEEL UNIONS FACE CHARGE

Tactics Forcing Small Plants To Merge, Spokesman Says.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, May 2 — With 25,000 of its members idled by scattered strikes principally in non-basic steel plants, the CIO-United Steel Workers union today was faced with a declaration by an industry spokesman that small companies might be "driven into mergers" by the union's bargaining tactics.

Miles H. Knowles of Washington, general counsel for the non-basic steel coordinating committee, in a statement issued last night at Detroit declared that the U. S. Steel settlement with the union April 21 was "in no way based upon conditions in fabricating plants."

Knowles said unless "local and competitive conditions" among the fabricators—plants which use steel to make hundreds of products—were taken into consideration, the plants would be forced to merge to defend themselves "against the nationwide wage pattern technique."

The industry statement declared the strikes among fabricators, mainly in Pennsylvania, were not preceded by "true collective bargaining."

The non-basic steel plants had complained to congress that in 1946 they were required to conform to the U. S. Steel's 18½ cents an hour raise without a chance to bargain.

Now, said the statement, the union "apparently is adopting the same tactics it employed last year."

Of the 25,000 idle workers, the largest group, 12,000, was in basic steel plant, Inland Steel Corp. at Indiana Harbor, Ind., where workers walked out because they had no contract although negotiations continued.

The other 13,000 walked out in a score of fabricating plants in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New Jersey and Ohio. In some cases the strikes were precipitated by a breakdown in negotiations, in others, by failure to agree on retroactive pay for any wage concessions arrived at by bargaining.

A final attempt at negotiating wage and hour differences will be made at a meeting Monday night between officials of Isaly Dairy Co. and members of Local 750, AW (CIO), Edward J. Duck, international representative of the UAW, said today.

OHIO AIRCRAFT FIRM CLOSED BY WALKOUT

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., May 2—Pickets paraded around the strikebound Goodyear Aircraft Corp today following a walkout of 1,900 CIO-United Auto Workers unionists involved in a contract dispute with officials of the metalworking firm.

Walter Turek, local union president, said the unionists left their jobs last night because their working contract, "dated May 1, had expired. The workers have demanded a 15-cent hourly wage increase, including six paid holidays and other provisions of CIO-UAW agreements with automotive producers, he added.

Negotiations in the dispute began April 10 and were continued yesterday with a 2½-hour session shortly before the unionists walked out, company officials said, adding that another meeting had been scheduled for today prior to the strike.

A wage contract signed May 1, 1946 was "supposed to continue until a new contract was signed or until a 10-day advance notice of cancellation was given," reported a company spokesman, "but no notice was given" before the strike.

Unionists had been offered a flat 11½-cent-an-hour raise in negotiations yesterday, he said.

Employing more than 20,000 workers on aircraft contracts during the war, the subsidiary of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. now produces caskets for the war department, and also makes refrigerator cases, wheels, brakes and other metal products.

perhaps their clearest opinion in history at the April 25 election of representatives. They definitely demanded a change in present governmental policies. At the same time they elected Premier Shigeru Yoshida and his cabinet and kept their hold on conservatism.

The election underscored the people's desire for adequate controls to minimize their own personal economic troubles and showed growing political power of organized labor.

In this expression of concrete opinion, the people showed progress toward constitutional government. General MacArthur hailing the results, said the Japanese "voted for candidates of their choice freely and fearlessly.

Japs Get Flag Back Along with Constitution

TOKYO, May 2—The Japanese people got their national flag back today on the eve of inauguration of the country's new constitution.

General MacArthur restored the Rising Sun banner with a strict proviso on where it could be flown without restriction—the emperor's palace, the national diet and supreme court building and the prime minister's residence.

"Let this flag fly," MacArthur wrote Premier Shigero Yoshida, "to signify the advent in Japanese life to a new and enduring era of peace based upon personal liberty, individual dignity, tolerance and justice."

Until now, MacArthur has permitted display of Japan's flag only on certain holidays. He has approved display of the banner in ceremonies tomorrow ushering in Japan's post-war constitution.

WRECK TOLL 5, WITH 6 STILL CRITICAL

By The Associated Press

HUNTINGDON, Pa., May 2—Five persons were dead today and six remained in critical condition from the second freak train disaster within a month.

Forty-five others were injured as the Pennsylvania railroad's New York-St. Louis flyer, the American, jolted into sheet steel jutting from a moving freight four miles west of Huntingdon in the pre-dawn hours yesterday.

On April 3 a tractor fell from a freight train into the path of the Burlington road's Chicago-bound Twin City Zephyr in Illinois derailing seven cars and fatally injuring three.

Meanwhile, a two-week-old infant, daughter of one of the victims of the American wreck, tossed restlessly in her crib at J. C. Blair Memorial hospital here, suffering a leg fracture and head bruises.

Through most of the day yesterday little Penelope Sims lay quietly in her crib but occasionally her cooing was broken by a frightened little cry. Her condition was listed as good.

For two others, the wreck was a tragic climax to a Florida honeymoon begun after their marriage two weeks ago yesterday.

Joseph Monaco, New Castle (Pa.) railroad machinist, was one of four critically injured at Blair hospital. His 22-year-old bride, Mary, less seriously hurt, told a reporter, "All I want right now is to go home and take Joe with me."

The five dead persons were:

Joseph Selnick Jr., 18, soldier, Pleasant Gap, Pa.; Pvt. Robert E. Deavers, 37, Zanesville, O.; Pfc. Herbert B. Huestch, 21, Columbia, Ill.; Michael Burdock Jr., Monessen, Pa., and Mrs. Jean D. Sims, 26, Clifton, Va., mother of little Penelope.

SAYS REAL ESTATE TAXES TO BEAR SCHOOL BURDEN

Spokesman Urges Restoration of Educaion Bill Cuts.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 2—Real estate taxes "must bear the brunt of the burden" for adequate school financing unless the House of representatives restores cuts made in the Daniels-Cramer school foundation bill, Dr. H. E. Vallance Ohio Education association president, declared today.

"Communities have already increased or are planning to increase their local school tax in order to obtain better teachers, build vitally needed new buildings and make long delayed repairs," Dr. Vallance said in a statement. "Inadequate state school aid will make it necessary to levy even greater additional taxes to make up the deficiency in the state's efforts.

Dr. Vallance declared it is "utter nonsense to force new local taxes upon the people when the state with a cash surplus of $161,000,000 in its treasury, can finance the Daniels-Cramer bill, as approved by the senate, out of operating revenue and on a pay-as-you-go basis."

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat
It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

U. S. To Extend Loan To Mexico To Improve Its Food Growing

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, May 2—President Truman and Mexico's President Aleman have announced there'll be a new U. S. loan to Mexico.

Why? For what?

One reason given is that Mexico needs some of the money to irrigate more land so Mexicans can raise more food to eat better.

James Marlow

Since this isn't the first loan to Mexico here is the story of the loans.

As with other Latin American countries, we've followed a good neighbor policy with Mexico, our closest southern neighbor.

She's been borrowing money from us since 1934 from the U. S. export-import bank, a government agency.

The bank was created in 1934 to make loans to foreign governments to increase, in one way or another, our trade with them.

Totals $98,000,000

Since 1934 the bank has approved loans to Mexico totaling $98,000,000. Of that total Mexico

1. Still has left untouched in the bank $30,000,000.
2. Has borrowed $68,000,000.
3. Has repaid $13,000,000.
4. Still owes, therefore, $55,000,000 of the borrowed $68,000,000.
5. Can borrow any time the still untouched $30,000,000 mentioned in No. 1.

The money borrowed so far has been spent for highway construction and equipment for steel mills, gasoline refineries, railroads, electricity, and aviation.

Mexico now is reported to want —in addition to the $30,000,000 waiting in the export-import bank—another $50,000,000 to $175,000,000.

To Develop Power

This money would go into developing Mexican power, irrigation and industrial projects.

When he was inaugurated last Dec. 1 President Aleman announced a 6-year program in his country to increase irrigation there.

To raise enough food to feed themselves properly, Mexicans figure they need to irrigate six times as much land as they irrigate now.

In their announcement yesterday the two presidents said they'd work out an agreement to keep Mexican money on an even keel.

This means letting Mexico buy American dollars when she needs them and sell them back when she doesn't. This is how:

Mexico, like any other country doing business with us, must have dollars to pay for what she buys here.

In wartime, when she could sell us more than she could buy, Mexico was able to build up a supply of dollars.

Now she's buying from us again and using up those dollars. Right now a dollar is worth about 5 pesos.

If dollars get scarcer, because they're used up buying American goods, some Mexicans may start offering 6 or 7 or 8 pesos for a dollar. That would cheapen the value of the peso.

If that starts, the Mexican government may want to buy American dollars to keep the value of the peso sound, five for a dollar.

American Legion Junior Baseball Back After 7 Years

Bird-McGinnis Post To Put Small-Fry Team in Action

By GEORGE ROEST

American Legion junior baseball is coming back to Marion after a lapse of seven years.

Plans are being laid by Bird-McGinnis Post 162 to work with the Ford Motor Co. in organizing a Legion team in Marion this summer.

Yesterday entry blanks, which may be filled out by any boy interested in playing with the Legion team this summer, were distributed at Harding, Central and Vernon. Blanks will be distributed at Edison today.

The American Legion program for baseball teams is on a national scope and over 5,500 boys participated in the program last year. The only requirement a boy must meet is that he did not reach his seventeenth birthday by Jan. 1, 1947.

Men Charged with Program

The men responsible for the program this summer are W. H. Martin, general chairman, W. E. Orcutt, assistant chairman, Jewell Ralston and C. M. Rogers, promotion.

Nelson Irvin, former St. Mary head coach and an assistant football coach last fall, will prep the Marion outfit.

Marion will play American Legion teams from other nearby cities and in July when the elimination to the national championship starts, will make its bid in Sixth Ohio district play. Winner of the district tourney will go to the state tournament, the winner from there to the regionals, and the regional winner to the Little World series for a crack at the national championship. Last year the New Orleans Blue Jays were the national title winner.

To Play Lima July 11

In order to raise funds for the program, the Marion team will play the William Paul Gallagher Post 96 of Lima in a preliminary game to the Marion Cub-Lima Terrier tilt at Lincoln park July 11. All proceeds from the game will go to the American Legion team. Four thousand tickets are being printed and will go on sale at various business establishments soon.

Lincoln-Mercury sales of Marion will provide funds for purchasing equipment and other expenses will have to be met by the Legion.

Boys interested in playing with the team who are not in school should contact W. E. Orcutt at Central Junior High school to obtain an entry blank. All entries must be in by May 8 and practice will begin at Harding field about May 16. All blanks must be accompanied by a birth certificate.

Good Preparation

Participation in the American Legion program is apparently one of the better ways for a boy to get ready for entry into organized ball.

Sporting News junior baseball edition lists the following all-star team of graduates from American Legion ball:

AWED BY BABE RUTH

Baseball Hopeful, 13, Meets Another Orphan Who Did All Right.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 2—A 13-year-old Jackson, Miss., orphan who wants to be a major league ballplayer was enroute home today after meeting another orphan who rose to the heights as the game's Sultan of Swat.

"Gee," was all Danny Williams, third baseman of the Mississippi Baptist orphange team, could say as he summed up a wide-eyed meeting with Babe Ruth.

Danny, winner of a hometown essay contest on "Why I would like to meet Babe Ruth" called on the former home run king at his apartment yesterday.

SAD SAM BREADON SEES CARDS DROPPED

Watches Mize Hammer Red Birds for 8th Loss.

By The Associated Press

Shed a tear for "Sad Sam" Breadon who flew from St. Louis to "prop up" his world champion Cardinals and arrived in time to watch them stumble through an eighth-straight loss on a homer by New York's Johnny Mize.

Mize, an old hired hand whom Breadon peddled to the Giants for $50,000 and three players over five years ago, put the finger on the Cards' early season trouble with one full swing of his war club. The Red Bird pitchers are throwing too many home run balls. No less than 14 homers have been clouted off the Red Bird staff.

Coming up yesterday with a man on and the Giants trailing by one in the seventh, Mize hammered a Ken Burkhart "shot put" delivery against the right field barrier, to give the Giants a 6-5 decision.

There were unmistakable signs of life in the Cards, for they combed four Giant pitchers for 10 hits.

The Brooklyn Dodgers routed Bob Chipman with a three-run second inning and went on from there for a 5-2 victory over Chicago. Kirby Higbe required relief help from rookie Ed Chandler to preserve his second success.

While St. Louis fans mourned the Cards' misfortunes, the Brownies gave them something to cheer about with a 20-hit attack and a 14-5 rout of Washington. Following on the heels of a 15-5 romp over the Yankees, the Brownies boosted themselves to the .500 level, only one game out of first place.

Cubs Idle As the Rain Stays

The third stanza of Marion's baseball song last night was the same as the first and second—rained out.

For the third successive time, the local 1947 curtain raiser was postponed because of dripping skies.

Misery has company, however, because—likewise for the third straight night—all other Ohio State league games shared the same fate.

With doubleheaders in July piling up on them, weary club officials said the same opening day arrangements prevail for tonight's game against the Zanesville Dodgers.

The game will begin at 8 p. m.—if. Brief ceremonies are planned with Mayor H. L. Dowler pitching the first ball and Safety Service Director E. O. Uncapher catching.

Truman First Yank To Dine on 36-Pound Trout

By The Associated Press

SAND POINT, Idaho, May 2—President Truman is slated to be the first American in the record books to dine on a 36-pound rainbow trout.

The new world's record Kamloop rainbow was landed after a 45-minute fight yesterday by C. L. Shepherd of Opportunity, Wash., in the most successful opening day of any trout fishing season on scenic Lake Pend Oreille.

Shepherd turned the mighty trout over to the Sandpoint Chamber of Commerce which hastily arranged to send it by air express to President Truman.

Happy Buttons MacPhail's Lip—at Least Temporarily

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 2—It looks as if Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler has accomplished, at least temporarily, one of his tougher tasks—that of putting the silencer on red-haired Larry MacPhail, voluble voice of the New York Yankees.

The two terrific talkers, neither known for any taciturn tale put on a conversational contest for six hours and 40 minutes in Happy's office yesterday, and just who won the marathon is still a mystery.

MacPhail appeared on the carpet at Chandler's order, the supposition being he wanted to chat with Larry about the latter's failure to observe a "don't open your mouth except to breathe" edict relative to the circumstances surrounding the April 9 suspension for the 1947 season of Brooklyn Dodger Manager Leo (The Lip) Durocher.

Both Miss Lunch

After the long conference, during which both principals missed lunch, Chandler gave up on a golf date, and 13 newsmen and six photographers cooled their heels in an ante-room, MacPhail said he had no comment and Chandler wouldn't even say that, except through a spokesman.

MacPhail flew back to his Yankee base last night.

At the close of the conference MacPhail appeared about "talked out" as he turned to the newspapermen and declared:

"Gentlemen, I'm sorry I'll not be able to help you. If you want any information you must get it from this office."

"There's No Story"

He turned through the door marked "baseball" and was greeted by flashing camera bulb, as Walter Mulbry, Chandler's assistant and spokesman, came from the commissioner's office and declared:

"There is no story, gentlemen. The colonel and the commissioner, as you know, have talked about six and a half hours on a variety of subjects."

Mulbry said the commissioner would see no newspapermen or photographers or answer any questions.

Asked if the conference had been peaceful, Mulbry thought a minute and then said:

"That's something I wouldn't care to comment on. However, there were no lulls in the conversation." He also said no further meeting between MacPhail and Chandler had been arranged or contemplated, and that no date for a talk with Del Webb and Dan Topping, co-owners of the Yanks had been set by Chandler.

Mystery Man Wins At Armory in Extra Fight

In a fight that carried over into the dressing room, the Mystery Man defeated Rufus Jones at the Armory last night, taking the first and third falls.

Many of the fans present thought that the referee aided the Mystery Man a little too much in the final fall, and were not hesitant to voice their disapproval.

Both Jones and the Hooded Terror exchanged blows going to and in the dressing room.

Time ran out on Billy Rayburn and Duke Keomuka in a one hour match after each had taken a fall.

Sammy DeLong and Fredie Barrow grappled to a draw in the 15 minute opener.

Fight Broadcast on WMRN Tonight

Herbie Kronowitz of Brooklyn tonight attempts to continue his upward climb in the middleweight division. He slugs it out in New York with George Sonny Horne (above), top-ranking 160-pounder of Valley Stream, L. I., in a ten-round shindy.

Kronowitz is a willing trader of punches—is hard to discourage. He has successfully enclred all attempts to stop him and has never been off his feet. The Brooklynite is a two-fisted puncher who bangs away from gong to gong.

Last year Horne went the distance with Graziano and finished strong. He's the guy who ended Rocky's sensational knockout splurge. Sonny is speedy and dangerous—a good combination boxer-puncher.

The fracas is said to have occurred at the home about 12:30 o'clock. Kelly was treated in the office of a local physician. YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Disease Organisms

A virus is the smallest of disease-producing organisms known, so tiny that it can be seen, if at all, only with the most powerful of electron microscopes. There are perhaps thousands of different kinds of these trouble-makers. Many of them seem to have a special affinity for certain tissues, producing disease by attacking these and these alone.

For instance infectious hepatitis, a disease affecting the liver, is thought to be caused by one of these viruses. It has been shown that the virus is present in the blood, in the secretions from the nose and throat and in the stools of patients suffering from this disease, but in its attack on the liver, it does its greatest damage.

For various studies and reports it is thought that the disease is spread at times by contaminated water, milk and food.

The condition seems to develop within 20 to 40 days after a person has been exposed to it. It begins suddenly with fever, sometimes with chills, pain in the joints and general aching of the muscles. The fever is seldom very high and usually returns to normal after three to four days. Sometimes there are symptoms present like that of a cold, occasionally with sore throat. Loss of appetite, sickness to the stomach, and vomiting and diarrhea often occur.

About four to five days after the onset, the patient develops jaundice which is a greenish-yellow discoloration of the skin. However, the jaundice often may not appear for several weeks or may develop even on the first day of the sickness. The jaundice may last for two weeks up to seven months or even longer. Enlargement of the lymph glands as well as increase in the size of the liver is also present.

Infectious hepatitis is not, as a rule, a serious disease. However, in occasional cases, it may even be fatal. Hence, the doctor should be called at once whenever it is suspected.

According to Dr. George Blumer of California, it is most important that the patient gets enough rest during the period of recovery. In addition he should receive a diet containing plenty of starchy foods and sugars as well as enough proteins from such foods as meat, milk and eggs.

During the early days of the illness, the patient should be kept in complete rest in bed and given plenty of fluids, easily digested foods and such medicines as are necessary to relieve discomfort and sleeplessness. During the period of jaundice, the diet should be free from fats. Occasionally a substance known as methionine may be administered since it seems to help protect the liver cells from damage.

Epidemics of infectious hepatitis are by no means infrequent and when such an epidemic is occuring persons should be on the lookout for the symptoms of this disease and report to their doctor

Edison Class Play Presented Before Capacity Audience

The Junior class of Edison High school presented a three-act comedy, "A Date With Judy," last night in the school auditorium, seating capacity of which was filled, and a number of persons stood. Under direction of Miss Barbara Ann Axe, the cast of 14 made up a modern-day family and friends and neighbors, all of whom were involved in the struggles of "Judy" to overcome a rival for the coveted place of queen of the high school dance. The play has the same characters as the radio "family" program of the same name. The family is the Fosters.

In the cast were Mary Lou Cornelius, "Judy," teen-age miss; Dick Riddle, her father; Darlene Ulrich, her mother; Dick Gherman, her younger brother; Edna Thomas, her best friend; Irene Sink, the maid; Jim Bain, "the man in Judy's life"; Jean Freese, another friend; Bob Ault, theatrical producer; Claire Koeppen, the laundress; Gloria Albert, her daughter; Jane Williams, member of the P.-T. A.; Don Showalter, new boy in town, and Patricia Leeper, his "kid" sister.

Complication followed complication in the four scenes of the play, all set in the living room of the Foster home, in a period of three weeks. The action centered around the many misunderstandings arising from Judy's efforts to raise funds for her campaign for school dance queen by entering her family and various friends in contests ranging from one sponsored by the manufacturer of a hair dye, to a "true confessions" competition entered by Judy herself. In the end, Judy gets to be queen because her rival has "broken out with hives."

During intermissions, the Edison orchestra, under direction of William Dowler, played. Production staff of 35 other students was supervised by Miss Emily Wilson, properties; Miss Mary K. Smith, ushers; Mrs. Irene Moore, make-up; Mrs. Hazel Strubel, publicity; and Ted Couts, stage crew. Lamoyne Green was business manager and Norma Higley and Nancy Ell were prompters. Art classes of Miss Evelyn Vesey made posters for the play. During curtain call at the end of the play, Miss Axe was presented a gift from the cast.

Gum Machines To Aid Work Of Kiwanians for Children

The Marion Kiwanis club's gum machine program, arranged to help the club finance its work among boys and girls and underprivileged children, was launched at the club's weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

With the slogan, "Chew—So That Others May Smile," the members of the committee in charge began installing candy ball gum self-service machines yesterday in factories, office buildings, hotels and stores throughout the city.

All the profits will be used by the club to aid in the club project of sponsoring a city playground for the summer, and also to augment the club's work among crippled and orphaned boys and girls.

The gum machines, products of the Ford Gum and Machine Co., Inc., of Lockport, N. Y., will form a large part of the Kiwanis fund raising program, and the members hope that every merchant, factory manager, or any other businessman will allow the club to place one of the machines on his premises. Lloyd B. Miller, a representative of the company, was present to explain the operation of the machines.

Each machine is marked with the words, "Your Penny Helps Build Youth [illegible] Activities."

Cutler A. McGrew is chairman of the committee installing the machines, and is being assisted by Max Birnbaum, Jack Sharkey, Otis Porter, William Preston and Carl F. Lemnitzer.

At the luncheon Thursday, the glass-domed machines filled with the vari-colored penny gum balls served as table centerpieces.

A guest of the club was Ed Freeman of Cleveland.

C. OF C. GROUP BACK FROM CONVENTION TRIP

Marion's Airline Service Application Discussed.

Five members and officers of the Marion Chamber of Commerce have returned from Washington, D. C., where they attended the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce. In the group were President Robert T. Mason, Secretary Louis E. Michel, Harold Carroll, Harold J. Grigsby and Robert E. White.

While in Washington they also made further investigation into the status of Marion's application for airline service.

Wednesday they met with Thomas L. Wrenn, assistant chief examiner for the civil aeronautics board. He said the board is considering the recommendations it will make in regard to the application of Eastern Airlines and United Airlines for Marion service.

The city has asked for service to Chicago and the east by way of United and to Cleveland, Cincinnati and the southwest by way of Eastern.

ORDINANCE NO. 4800

ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS IN ANTICIPATION OF THE COLLECTION OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A SANITARY AND STORM WATER SEWER ON FAHEY STREET FROM THE NORTHERN END OF THE EXISTING SANITARY AND STORM WATER SEWER NORTH TO SILK STREET.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Marion has heretofore, by proper legislation, declared the necessity of improving Fahey Street by the construction of a sanitary and storm water sewer, and

WHEREAS, this Council contemplates the use of $3795.75 for the purpose of paying the portion of the cost of said improvements which are to be paid by assessments.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Marion:

SECTION 1. That it is hereby declared necessary to issue the bonds of the City of Marion in the principal sum of $3795.75 for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement of Fahey St. from the northern end of the existing sanitary and storm water sewer north to Silk St.

SECTION 2. That said bonds shall be of the denomination of:

1 at $3795.75

and shall be dated 1st day of July, 1947; shall bear interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum, payable semi-monthly on the first days of January and July of each year until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in ten semi-annual installments after their issuance.

SECTION 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the levy of special assessments and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement of Fahey St. from the northern end of the existing sanitary and storm water sewer north to Silk St. by the construction of a Sanitary and Storm Water Sewer, in accordance with the legislation heretofore passed by the City of Marion's Council with respect thereto, to pay the property owners' share of the cost and expense of said respective improvements, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of said City in the amount of $3795.75, which shall be placed to the credit of the Special Improvement Fund.

The appropriation hereinabove made for said sewer improvement is subject to the qualification that interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum for the period prior to the collection of the first installment so to be levied shall be included in said amount, and the amount necessary to pay said interest is hereby appropriated for the payment thereof and for no other purpose.

SECTION 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount aforesaid shall be issued bearing interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. Such notes shall be dated the 1st day of May, 1947 and shall mature on the 30th day of April, 1948. Such notes shall be executed and delivered in such number and such denominations as may be requested by the purchaser of such notes.

SECTION 5. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and City Auditor and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer, Marion, Ohio; that shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this Ordinance.

SECTION 6. All assessments collected for the improvement aforesaid the unexpended balances remaining in the funds after the costs and expenses of said improvements have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for.

SECTION 7. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity shall be transferred to the Sinking Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 8. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of the City and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes shall, to the extent necessary, be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

SECTION 9. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of said notes at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in said City for the payment of such notes and the interest thereon.

SECTION 10. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 11. That this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

THE crinkled, terrified lines of my small daughter's face smoothed themselves at my assurance that nobody was dead or going to die, and that she could see Katharine in a little while.

"That will be perfectly scrumpshus," she said, and Jack caught my father's eye over her shoulder.

"You have some things to explain, haven't you, Chief?" he asked. "How about my taking this young lady over to that little table against the corner window seat, and teaching her a new game of cards?"

"I know three games already," Faith piped. "Hearts, and two kinds of solitaire."

"I'll bet you don't know my kind of solitaire," Jack said, and by the time he had finished speaking, I had given him a deck of cards.

The next minute, he and Faith were settled at the card table, Faith with her back to the rest of us—Jack had seen to that—and I had brought Olina over to the side of the room farthest from Faith, although with Jack on the job, I knew there was no possible chance of her paying any attention to us.

"Sit here, Olina," my father said, putting her with grandiose courtesy into a chair opposite his own, where, I knew, he could study her face.

"If you will sit next to her, Margarret," he went on, and I saw the eyes of the exiled princess of Transyania widen with wonder. But she did not speak, and my father, Philip and Dicky seated themselves.

An Espionage Problem

"We are going to let you in on a secret, Olina," my father began, smiling at her. "An espionage problem has come up within the last few days. Jack is going to Washington tomorrow, and from there to South America to see what he can find out.

"I had to come up here tonight to see your stepfather, and he has gotten in touch with your mother for me. There were reasons why I did not want to bring her over here."

"Espionage?" Olina repeated. "South America? You are trying to shield my mother? Then Otto must be mixed up in the business somewhere."

"You are very quick-witted, my dear," my father said. "Otto is mixed up in it. I will try to be as brief as possible in telling you about it."

"And I will promise not to interrupt you again," she said, and kept her word, remaining silent but intensely attentive, as my father outlined again the story he had given to Philip, and which he, in turn, had given to Olga.

Omitted No Detail

My father omitted no slightest detail. In only one respect did the story differ from the one he had told to Philip. He did not emphasize the "less than fifty-fifty" chance of finding Georges and Pietro alive. Instead, he intimated that there was a strong hope of getting in touch with both of them.

Finally, he told of the directions Olga had given for finding the retainers who knew the secret of the castle treasure vaults, and of Olga's decision that all the treasure of the castle, except a few personal jewels and keepsakes, should be held in trust for the people of Transyania until they could choose freely the kind of government they wished.

"We felt that you should know about his angle, Olina," my father said gravely, "because, even though your mother may not wish to keep the jewels, she is not of the Transyanian royal house, except by marriage. You are of that lineage, and some of those jewels belong to you."

Philip Veritzen nodded emphatically.

Right to Decide

"He is right, my dear," he said. "You have the right to make your own decision about the jewels which are rightfully yours."

Olina's cheeks were burning as her stepfather finished, and her eyes were ashamed.

"I don't wonder you both thought I'd be reluctant to go along with my mother on this," she said.

Then she put her hand to her throat, as though she were choking.

"I remember, and all of you do, too," she said at last, "the rotten way I behaved about those emeralds. But, please believe me, I've grown up since then. Unless it's a keepsake or two—and then those aren't important — I vote with Mamar to sell those jewels to help the people. All I want is to see Georges and Pietro safe again."
